

ASSIGNING ACADEMIC ADVISORS

Students are assigned an academic advisor when they are accepted into an associate degree, technical diploma, or certificate. The assignment is based upon the program and primary campus.

If students change programs, they are reassigned to the advisor for their new program choice.

Advisors are assigned to specific programs based upon campus location and program cluster. To help maintain consistency between advisors and associate deans, new program assignments are added based upon the academic cluster they fall under.